Vintage Report

Climate change has shifted the definition of Burgundy irrevocably now, hasn't it? Well, here is a vintage that is both entirely marked by this phenomenon and yet paradoxically tastes like a top vintage from back in the 1980s. Like most things Burgundian, the reasons why are rather complex.

2021 started off warm and wet, with temperatures tipping into the 20s in February. This kick-started the vines' growth cycle to the extent that when much of continental Europe suffered a deep frost brought down from the Arctic on the 5th, 6th and 7th April, Burgundy's vines were extremely vulnerable. The extent of the temperature dip (-7 degrees in places), its blanket nature and an additional fall of snow to add moisture into the mix, all played their part in devastating the vineyards.

The results were catastrophic, with losses typically in the region of 60-100%, although some areas in the Côte de Nuits particularly fared a little better. Unlike the traditional pattern, it was not just the low-lying, less prestigious vineyards that were affected by the frost, but also the mid-slope Grands Crus and even those areas thought virtually immune to frost risk such as Matrot's holdings of Blagny 'La Pièce sous le Bois' where the usual production of 26 barrels was this year reduced to 6. Elsa Matrot told us that her father, the now-retired Thierry says "if it frosts in Blagny, Meursault will be destroyed". "He was right", she added.

As if the early season depletion of volume was not enough to contend with, vigneronns had to work harder than in any vintage in recent history to fend off mildew and oidium pressures, as well as to nurse their wounded vines into a sufficient state of health that the 2022 vintage would not also be imperilled. What's more, the sun refused to come out until August, with harvests taking place a full month later than the preceding year at many Domaines. The figure for total sunlight hours was ultimately down significantly on 2020.

On paper then, this was a disastrous vintage. And yet... the severely reduced volumes of grapes meant that the little sun that there was went a long way. A clement August got most plots to full ripeness and we saw a harvest of grapes that, when put in the hands of the talent the region has in this day and age, were crafted into delightfully fine-boned, ethereal wines at notably lower alcohol levels than we have been used to seeing of late. In other words, Burgundy of the style we were more used to seeing before climate change started to affect the region, delivered in no small part thanks to crazily high February temperatures and then tamed by a new generation of wine-making talent. 2021 stands in stark stylistic contrast to the dense, dark 2020s. Personally, I love the style of both and having a selection of each in the cellar is a greatly appealing prospect, with the 2021s showing their charms early while the 2020s slumber in bottle for many a year.

With global demand for Burgundy higher than ever and production nowhere near able to satisfy demand, recommendations are easy—anything you can get your hands on! Less facetiously, I would steer aficionados towards those producers who went with the grain of the vintage and who aimed for grace over power—Domaine Dubreuil-Fontaine is a top candidate, with some reasonably priced reds and whites from the beautiful village of Pernand-Vergelesses. Domaine Bachelet-Monnot too, from the equally beautiful Maranges at the other end of the Côte de Beaune and I must also pick out a new producer to my radar and our primeur range—Domaine Bertagna in Vougeot in the heart of the Côte de Nuits.

What the critics say...

"Given everything thrown at vineyards and winemakers in 2021, how come so many of the wines are blooming delicious?"

Neal Martin, Vinous.com

"Some have assumed that the 2021 vintage, in which grapes were threatened almost constantly by both mildews and such grapes as survived struggled to ripen, would necessarily produce disappointing wine but I firmly believe they are wrong."

Jancis Robinson, JancisRobinson.com

"This vintage will appeal to real cognoscenti of burgundian Pinot Noir, to the absolute devotees of fragrance, limpidity and soft, ethereal tannins – that gossamer touch that normally speaking should take decades to evolve."

Matthew Hayes, JancisRobinson.com

"There is greater underlying mineralité, tension, and vibrancy on the palate compared to recent vintages."

Neal Martin, Vinous.com

"The best wines are superbly fresh and transparent as the underlying terroir is wonderfully clear; indeed it's at the core of each wine. In fact, I would go so far as to say that the terroir is so crystalline in 2021 that even those who doubt its existence might well be persuaded to reconsider their convictions. Outstanding transparency though is not all there is as the wines are strikingly refreshing and tension filled."

Allen Meadows, Burghound

"If you can afford it and can find some, it's also a very good period for lovers of Burgundy, because the 2021s are delicious. It's a classic year: poised, good acidity, transparent, with the differences between appellations clear on the palate; much clearer than in 2020."

Margaret Rand, Wine-Searcher.com

"The vintage unequivocally harks back to when Pinot Noir was all about bright red fruit and tartness, that elusive combination of weightlessness and intensity, transparency and terroir expression."

Neal Martin, Vinous.com

"What 2021 delivers, in the right hands of course, is a return to classicism, the produce of weather more often encountered in the 1970s and 1980s but with first-class plant material in the vineyards and infinitely more skill and ambition in the cellar."

Jancis Robinson, JancisRobinson.com

"This is indeed, as all your merchants will be telling you, a vintage which delivers a welcome lightness of touch with a classical pinot flavour."

Jasper Morris, InsideBurgundy.com

"When the 2021s are good, though they are a joy to drink, not only because they are delicious but also because they are capable of appealing to the intellect as well because of their superb terroir transparency. I hesitate to call them the 'thinking person's burgundies' but there is an element of that in the wines."

Allen Meadows, Burghound

Domaine Antoine Jobard

Rue du Leignon, Meursault

"This is an excellent range of whites from Jobard, who's clearly learned a lot from his father François, who crafted some wondrous wines back in the day."

Neal Martin

Antoine Jobard took over from his father François on his retirement twelve years ago, becoming the fifth generation to take charge of the Domaine. The 2011 vintage was the first time we had tasted chez Jobard and the wines hugely impressed. Since then the bar has been raised higher still each year. Here is a perfect example of the trend seen in Meursault over the last few years where the archetypal sweet-fruited, buttery, highly-oaked wines that dominate popular perception of the appellation have started to give way to wines that are more lightly oaked and earlier picked, keeping a tension and focus and allowing the terroir to better express itself. Jobard now produces "some of the most long lived Meursaults" (Andrew Jefford, The New France). The flavour profile too has shifted too, from tropical fruits to citrus.

Antoine's wines in 2021 are chalky and crystalline with perhaps slightly lower acids than in recent years. The trouble is the lack of them. Overall losses were around the 80% mark, with the Premiers Crus worse affected still, hence their total absence from the range this year.

Domaine de Bellene

Rue du Faubourg Saint-Nicolas, Beaune

“Nicolas Potel’s wines have a strong following in the UK, the United States and Japan and for good reason. His wide portfolio of both domaine and négociant wines can be absolutely delicious.”

Neal Martin

Our visits to Nicolas Potel’s Maison Roche de Bellene are always memorable for several reasons, including being reminded of how much of a wine nut Nicolas is – his knowledge of the minutest of details of for example specific sub-plots within vineyards illustrates a real attention to detail that very much manifests itself in the winery too. One would hope from a good Burgundy négociant to get a large range of wines at a consistent and good level of quality and at a keen price – Roche de Bellene ticks these boxes and goes far beyond.

Nicolas calls 2021 “a difficult year to talk about” because of the low volumes and the huge amount of efforts required in the vineyard throughout the growing season, but made a very good point that the severely reduced yields allowed the remaining grapes to reach full maturity – something they could not have done otherwise.

For négociants specifically, 2021 came with the added problem of growers keeping for themselves fruit that would usually be released to Nicolas and his counterparts. We have stuck therefore with a standout value wine from fully-owned vineyards that is already making quite the impression among those Burgundy drinkers who want bottles for the fridge that don’t require a preliminary visit to the bank manager before purchase.

"Rapidly becoming a customer-favourite house white Burgundy after its introduction to our range last year, fruit for the Eclos des Abeilles in 2021 comes from Nuits-Saint-Georges, Saint-Romain, and also Natoux up in the Hautes-Côtes. There are notes of lime and petrol, somewhat reminiscent of Riesling, plus a little peach and a good, chalky minerality that develops on the finish. Fresh, full of character and it shows a good length to boot."

Domaine Bachelet-Monnot

Grande Rue, Dezize-Lès-Maranges

“Marc Bachelet (...) and his brother Alexandre have set the standard not just in Maranges, but perhaps in the Côte de Beaune, their wines triumphing in many a blind “Burgfest” tasting. Bachelet-Monnot is on fire at the moment.”

Neal Martin

Neal Martin

Based in picturesque Dezize-Lès-Maranges, but with several parcels of Meursault, Chassagne- and Puligny-Montrachet village and Premier Cru vineyards, Domaine Bachelet-Monnot are one of the most exciting additions to our range over the last decade and have already got quite a following. The estate is run by brothers Marc and Alexandre and their wines, both red and white, are delicious, each seeming to get the balance between drinkability and structure just right.

2021 is “the full representation of Pinot Noir” according to Marc, with the crunchy red fruit in his reds very much to his, and I must say also my, taste. This is a Domaine where freshness is prized and so it came as no surprise to hear that it was a vintage that pleased the brothers, and one in which their wines in both colours excelled, even if they lost the majority of their potential production to the frost.

Domaine Chofflet is located in the picture-book hillside hamlet of Russilly, in the Côte Chalonnaise. The estate has been in the family for over 100 years and today the 11 hectare domaine is run by Jonathan Brunot, who took their reins from Denis Valdenaire in 2019, this father-in-law to son-in-law transition replicating the previous transition when Valdenaire picked up the reins from his father-in-law Jean Chofflet.

All 14 hectares of the Domaine’s holdings are within Givry, giving the estate an unrivalled focus on, and mastery of the appellation.

“The domaine's extensive holdings, when vinified parcel by parcel, give Hautus and his team a broad palette of blending components to choose from, a rare luxury in Burgundy and one that they appear to be exploiting to the fullest.”

William Kelley

The purchase, in early 2017 of this estate by Screaming Eagle owner Stan Kroenke created some of the biggest headlines of the year in the world of fine wine, the American businessman falling for the “terroir that exists nowhere else”. Already one of Burgundy’s most prestigious estates, Kroenke is aiming to push Bonneau du Martray that tiny bit further to fully exploit the Domaine’s magnificent holdings. This is the only Domaine in Burgundy that makes solely Grand Cru, owning the single largest block of vineyards on the Corton hill.

Bonneau du Martray’s wines are traditionally released a few months later than most, so we should expect them to come out next year.

Domaine Confuron-Gindre

Rue de la Tâche, Vosne-Romanée

“From the lieux-dits onwards there is a striking potential from this producer who has previously been rather under the radar.”

Jasper Morris

A quick trip up Rue de la Tâche in Vosne takes you to this Domaine. Under the radar in the UK until now, Jasper Morris visited for the first time to review the 2019s.

These wines, still mainly sold through high-end restaurants in France, are perhaps on the richer side of the Vosne spectrum, but are tremendously well polished and balanced. In an otherwise quite wealthy village of Vosne-Romanée, there's something refreshingly unpretentious about this estate. One to watch.

Domaine François Bertheau

Rue du Carré, Chambolle-Musigny

“A lovely portfolio of supple, fragrant wines that represent the essence of Chambolle in their elegance and purity.”

William Kelley

To call François Bertheau eccentric would be an understatement; he is with little doubt the most charismatic winemaker we met all week. Based in the centre of Chambolle-Musigny, François took over from his father Pierre in 2003 and has since had no shortage of suitors for his vineyard holdings which are all based in Chambolle and which include two of the most desirable sites in Burgundy. Stylistically these wines are fascinating. He practices 'lutte raisonnée', allows the fruit to determine the style of the wine and gives it every chance by limiting manipulation in the vineyard and winery. A small one-man band, this Domaine and its wonderful wines have earned cult status with sommeliers around the world.

Domaine Heresztyn-Mazzini

Rue Richebourg, Gevrey-Chambertin

“This is a fine address if you are seeking an alternative to, say, Armand Rousseau. Heresztyn-Mazzini is in the same mould as their neighbour, Pierre Duroché: very hands-off winemaking, letting the vineyard speak; mineral-driven and elegant wines... Yes, I know the name is a bit of a tongue-twister, but trust me, the wines are worth seeking out .”

Neal Martin

Based right in the heart of Gevrey-Chambertin, 2020 is the sixth vintage we have offered from this Domaine and the wines were once again on top form. Run by Florence and her husband Simon, in the vineyard the operation is run organically, with full biodynamic certification due to follow imminently. This of course necessitates a painstaking level of attention to detail in the vineyards, something that is also in evidence in the winery, with every decision, for example about the percentage of whole clusters to use, being pored over and each cuvée being treated separately according to its own needs. The wines are an absolute pleasure to drink, with the silky texture of the tannins and the purity of the fruit noteworthy.

Domaine Bernard Moreau

Route de Santenay, Chassagne-Montrachet

“For my palate, the results are some of the finest white wines produced on the Côte de Beaune, and they occupy a prominent place in my personal cellar.”

William Kelley

A trip to Domaine Moreau is always a treat. The tiny winery is attached to the bustling family home and the Moreaus are always very welcoming. The winery's roots stretch back to 1809 and original owner Auguste Moreau, but it took on its current guise in 1930 under Marcel Moreau. Bernard started to look after the vineyards at the tender age of fourteen and Moreau's reputation as one of the top Chassagne producers was well established by the 1980s. Bernard's son Alex is now in charge of the estate.

The Domaine now split between Alex and his brother Benoît, there is now even less wine to go round alas, but more room in the winery to give Alex the ability to pay even closer attention to each cuvée.

Domaine Henri Gouges

Rue du Moulin, Nuits-Saint-Georges

“One of the most important growers in Burgundy... A producer that I greatly admire.”

Neal Martin

Domaine Gouges is one of Nuits-Saint-Georges's most famous Domaines and one of the appellation's best – “the doyen of Nuits-Saint-Georges with magnificent wines” says Clive Coates MW. The Gouges family have been owners of this Domaine since 1919 and founder Henri is something of a Burgundian revolutionary. He was a key player in the battle against fraud and was the first Burgundian to bottle his own wine because it guarantees provenance and therefore quality. Domaine bottling is now practised throughout Burgundy. Grandson Gregory runs the Domaine with the same drive and passion for quality as his legendary grandfather.

The Domaine's wines were renowned under Henri as some of the most structured and long-lived of Nuits-Saint-Georges. However, Gregory has been working towards a more approachable style. That said, these are still wines very much built for ageing.

Benjamin Leroux

Rue Colbert, Beaune

“There are some exceptional wines here that rank alongside the illustrious names of Burgundy. He certainly has the gift of touch that seems to elevate everything from village crus to grand crus.”

Neal Martin

Having started studying viticulture at the age of 13 and then started as the general manager of Domaine Comte Armand at just 26, it's fair to say Benjamin was a bit of a child prodigy, it's easy to forget how young he is now despite his wealth of experience garnered already. Now based in a winery in the heart of the town of Beaune, he has been acquiring new parcels of vineyard sites at quite a rate, but the quality is rising just as quickly as his vineyard holdings. Given the number of wines he now makes, it is remarkable how consistently excellent these wines are from top to bottom.

2021 hit Ben's cellars hard, with the barrel count down 40% in comparison to the previous vintage. Our range is consequently hit, but the ever-reliable Saint-Romain 'Sous Le Château' is once again an excellent pound-for-pound option in white.

Domaine Camus-Bruchon

Rue de Chorey, Savigny-Lès-Beaune

“This is an excellent source for keenly priced, classically balanced wines that consistently develop well in the cellar, so it's a mystery why this 7.5-hectare domaine isn't better known.”

William Kelley

Although there is archival evidence dating this Domaine back to 1704, for almost 250 years the succession passed through a sole female heir. Until the birth of Lucien Camus in 1949 therefore, the Domaine name changed with each successive generation. Luc and his wife Bernadette (née Bruchon) are blessed with both a son, Guillaume, who since 2001 has been working full-time at the Domaine and a daughter, Alexandra, who is the oenologist at the well-known Beaune négociant Albert Bichot.

Based on the edge of Savigny and overlooking the village's finest plots, this Domaine has 9.5ha of vineyard across regional, village and Premier Cru sites in Savigny, Pommard and Beaune, this wines aged mainly in 500 litre barrels in order to ensure the oaking is subtle and well integrated into the wines. A judicious mix of conventional and organic methods is practiced.

Domaine Jean Grivot

Rue de la Croix Rameau, Vosne-Romanée

One of the Côte d'Or's greatest and longest-established Domaines, Grivot is now predominantly in the hands of Mathilde, who in the last few years has been gradually taking over from her father Etienne.

The house style remains the same, with late harvesting and extended periods of barrel ageing resulting in a muscular, structured style that can be difficult to taste when young, but which after a few years in the cellar open up to reveal beautiful black-fruit driven wines. The quality of the Domaine's holdings helps in no small part, however the Grivot magic is evident across the range, even on the Gamay-based Coteaux Bourguignons.

Neal Martin

Méo-Camuzet is always one of the highlights of our Burgundy primeur offerings. If you have not had the pleasure of encountering the wines before, they are one of the biggest names not only in their home town of Vosne-Romanée, but in all of Burgundy. Stylistically they produce very polished, but exotic, rich wines which take oak well. They are very ageworthy, yet show well in their relative youth. Individual vineyard expression is very strong, so it is worth reading the individual notes in detail. Some stems (rather than whole bunches) are added, but no more than about 10%.

As well as some of the most heavily oversubscribed Premiers Crus of all, Méo-Camuzet's line up includes a handful of wines us mere mortals can secure to get a taste of this estate's winemaking magic. The village Fixin and Vosne-Romanée reds are joined by a noteworthy pair of whites—the ever-popular Hautes-Côtes de Nuits 'Clos Saint Philibert' from a plot situated 300 yards above the Grand Cru Echezeaux is joined by a Bourgogne Blanc comprised of fruit from Pommard and some from the Hautes-Côtes de Nuits above Nuits-Saint-Georges.

Domaine Matrot

Rue du Martray, Meursault

“Savvy consumers will take note of the domaine's under-the-radar wines, especially their emblematic red Blagny from La Pièce Sous Le Bois.”

William Kelley

Domaine Matrot was established in 1909 by Joseph Matrot and had been run solely by his understated but talented grandson Thierry since 1976, with 2015 his last vintage before handing over the reins to his daughters Elsa and Adèle. They are now renowned as “a top-class Meursault producer” (Wine International) and own some of the best plots in Meursault’s finest vineyards.

The sisters, like their father before them, believe in using oak only very sparingly. They are firm believers that quality comes from the vineyard, so let the fruit do the talking.

Brutally honest about their travails in 2021, Elsa laid out the damage to us in figures – 4 barrels of Pièce sous le Bois produced instead of the usual 26, 9 of Maranges made rather than 30, and nothing at all in Saint-Romain, Saint-Aubin or Monthélie – “a disaster in terms of economy and in terms of vinification” – the first part of that statement self-evident and the latter part an allusion to the low juice-to-berry ratio making things tricky to handle in the winery. Despite all that, the wines deliver, especially in my view the Meursault and the Charmes. I’d be delighted to have a case of either in my cellar.

Maison Joseph Drouhin

Rue d'Enfer, Beaune

“Drouhin continues to demonstrate what a class act they have become.”

Neal Martin

Maison Drouhin was established in 1880 by Joseph Drouhin and has remained a family affair ever since, being run nowadays by the fourth generation. Frédéric is assuming overall control of the firm from his father Robert while his brother Philippe and sister Véronique, who both studied at Dijon now look after the vineyards and winemaking respectively. The estate itself occupies the breathtaking Parliament building, one of the most beautiful cellars in all of Beaune, originating from the time when Burgundy was an independent duchy.

Nearly all of Drouhin's holdings are fully organic and biodynamic, with that very same philosophy being extended to newly acquired vineyards. Benefitting from the use of optical sorting tables from 2013 onwards, the reds are often darker, denser and more concentrated than many.

"From the Drouhin holding in Languettes. Mid lemon and lime colour. The nose shows a very light reduction. Racy and certainly mineral on the palate, quite fine boned with a slightly softer flesh, medium plus length. A sound Corton-Charlemagne for the medium term."

Domaine Faiveley

Rue du Tribourg, Nuits-Saint-Georges

“This is a commendable set of wines that do not disguise the ups and downs of the challenging growing season.”

Neal Martin

While Faiveley's vineyard holdings are extensive by Burgundian standards, quality reflects the fact that this is a family Domaine, making wine from parcels under its own ownership. In fact, they care for their wines so much, this is the only cellar I have ever seen where the most precious wine is kept in a barrel closed with a lockable bung!

The number of decades-old examples of Faiveley's wines that are pulled out for retrospective tastings underlines the fact that these wines are likely to appeal greatly to the traditionalist who is looking for more structure and for wines to cellar rather than for instant gratification. Some of the most impressive Burgundies we have tasted are from this Domaine, but all of them have been at the peak of maturity, so patience is certainly rewarded here.

"The ripe, plummy fruit character is a bit restrained on the nose but opens up on the palate with notes of earth, mineral, and smoke. The texture is classic for Gevrey in a cool year, with reasonably strict tannins and fresh acidity that lead to a persistent finish. This wine is a selection from the 35 parcels (10 hectares in all) that Faiveley owns in Gevrey. They began to pick in the village on 23 September and finished before the rains here. The grapes were mostly destemmed before fermentation, and the wines are now ageing in cask."

"Puligny de Tonnerre or Puligny Vaillons', joked Faiveley's winemaker Jérôme Flous, referring to the lemony intensity of this wine. The fruit aromas were supplemented with notes of hazelnut, gunflint, and smoke. The texture was lively and bright, with crisp acidity, medium body, and good length. The grapes come from a plot of 0.37 hectares and are given the full treatment: firmly pressed as whole clusters, fermented in cask (half new), and stirred frequently. There is enough substance here, however, to absorb these elements, and the overall impression is one of freshness and balance."

Domaine Servin

Avenue d'Oberwesel, Chablis

“The 30-hectare Domaine Servin, ably directed by François Servin and Australian-born winemaker Marc Cameron, continues to number among Chablis's under-appreciated addresses... This domaine comes warmly recommended.”

William Kelley

Documented by the monks of Saint Martin for owning vineyards as far back as the 16th century, successive generations of the Servin family have continued the tradition of winemaking in Chablis ever since.

Today the approach is very much a mixture of modern and traditional techniques. The best vineyard sites are hand harvested to ensure fruit arrives at optimum ripeness. Single plot vinification takes place in a mixture of stainless steel and oak, letting the differences in terroir shine in each wine. The vines average 40 years and most of the sites are on Kimmeridgian limestone soils. This gives the wines their power, concentration and minerality which is so typical of the Domaine's style. The Grands Crus in particular have great cellaring potential.

Domaine Felettig

Rue du Tilleul, Chambolle-Musigny

"I have long been a fan of the Felettig wines."

Burghound

Allen Meadows, Neal Martin and William Kelley have all earmarked siblings Gilbert and Christine Felettig's Chambolle-Musigny Domaine as a rising star and our visits here over the last half decade or so have really reinforced this view.

Gilbert is not shy of using a little new oak where it is called for, naturally increasing in the percentage used as we go up to the Premiers and Grands Crus. Whole bunch inclusion is practiced here, but always varying according to the plot, so 0% for some and up to 45% for others, but this always varies by plot and does not follow the appellation hierarchy.

2021 starts the long handover process to Gilbert's daughter Pauline, who has made her mark straight away by converting the Domaine to organic farming.

Splitting from the family estate Domaine Marc Colin in 2016, 2021 was the fifth vintage produced by Joseph under his own name and he has already established his wines as some of the most sought-after whites in our range.

We have been blown away by the quality of the whites from this estate since Joseph's solo debut 2017 vintage. Specialising in Chassagne-Montrachet and Saint-Aubin, these are some of the most pure, mineral whites in the Côte de Beaune, rivalling Moreau's efforts as the very best in this neck of the woods.

Domaine Hudelot-Baillet

Rue Caroline Aigle, Chambolle-Musigny

"Gotta soft spot for Hudelot-Baillet...I don't mind admitting that. Just delicious, nuanced wines that need but a sip to compel a purchase."

Neal Martin

A Domaine often thought of for producing big, powerful Chambolle-Musigny has, based on our more recent tastings of their wares, produced a selection of wines we feel are perhaps more typical of the appellation; really very charming, precise and elegant. This hasn't gone unnoticed by the critics either, with William Kelley noting that "given the level of quality now being attained at this address, to say nothing of its enviable palette of appellations, readers should take notice."

2021 sees Dominique Leguen's son Tanguy increasingly involved in the wine-making duties as the baton slowly passes from one generation to the next. The wines show admirable concentration for the vintage and give further credence to this Domaine's claim to be producing wines that put them at Chambolle's top table.

Neal Martin

We have spent the last few years repeating the fact that Domaine Chartron has seen a steep rise in quality over the last decade or two and that sooner or later everyone would notice... but now that time has come. William Kelley calls this estate “an excellent source of pure and precise Puligny that deserves more recognition”, while Neal Martin calls the wines “now unquestionably superior” to those produced in the late 1990s.

2021s volumes totalled only 50% of a usual harvest, with several parcels wiped out entirely by frost. What remained was true to type, with a range of predominantly village-level wines each true to their terroir. Neal Martin calls the Chassagne “superb” and the Savigny “difficult to resist in its youth”, while Charles Curtis calls the Puligny an “admirable flagship” and the Rully a “delightful white”. High praise indeed across the range.

Domaine de la Vougeraie

Rue de l'Eglise, Premeaux-Prissey

“Domaine de la Vougeraie has almost discretely become a major player in top quality, occasionally profound Burgundy wine. With winemaker Pierre Vincent, there was a significant turnaround in style and quality -- the wines discovering terroir expression, nuance and elegance, poise and complexity. I’ve lost count the number of times their wines have triumphed in blind tastings and yet still, I don’t think this domaine receives the credit that is due. ”

Neal Martin

By common consent of most Burgundy followers, quality at Domaine de la Vougeraie was lifted to a significant degree during the tenure of head winemaker Pierre Vincent. 2017 though was the first vintage since his departure and the big question was whether the winemaking team, now led by the delightfully enthusiastic Sylvie Poillot, had learnt sufficiently from the master to simply pick up the baton and run. Based on the evidence of the vintages since, the answer is a most definite yes! The sheer attention to detail required in the vineyard to commit to biodynamic wine production means every ‘i’ is dotted and every ‘t’ crossed, no short cut is taken and this level of precision makes for impeccable quality fruit. The estate even produces its own oak barrels.

2021 was a year that saw many cuvées amalgamated due to the low volumes, giving a rare opportunity to pick up some ‘turbocharged’ versions of old favourites where Premier Cru fruit made it into village-level blends.

Domaine Taupenot-Merme

Route des Grands Crus, Morey-Saint-Denis

“Romain Taupenot has been behind the ascent of Taupenot-Merme in recent years. It is almost as if fashion has caught up with them, traditionally furrowing their own path of slightly leaner, terroir-driven wines that were as much about texture as fruit, now many growers have changed back more to this style.”

Neal Martin

While there is no doubt that whole bunch fermentation is in fashion currently, here is an estate that uses none at all, yet which makes utterly delicious, appealing wines. New oak is used only minimally too and the net result of these factors, plus a focus on organic farming and minimal interventional winemaking makes for a selection that is fresh, elegant and expressive of the wines' various terroirs.

Winemaking here is in its seventh generation with the incumbent Romain Taupenot and his hand on the tiller has really seen this estate rise through the ranks, not necessarily yet noticed by all. As Neal Martin puts it, this is “a domaine where quality has dramatically improved in recent years – as I keep telling anyone that will listen”.

"A deft application of wood sets off very fresh red and blue berry fruit aromas that evidence an intense earthiness. There is very fine intensity to the muscular broad-shouldered flavors that flash excellent power and an almost creamy mid-palate that contrasts markedly with the moderately, austere, beautifully long and mouth coating finish. This isn't quite as concentrated as the Pruliers but it's finer and should age effortlessly."

“His top vineyards in Saint Aubin and Chassagne deliver everything you could want from one of the best growers in Burgundy. Some of the vineyard such as the “En Remilly” and “Murgers des Dents de Chien” are spectacular and compete with the finest Puligny wines but at far more reasonable prices. ”

Neal Martin

Olivier Lamy is a man obsessed by his craft, forever looking for new ways to improve quality, be that by using ultra-high density planting, or by meticulous leaf management during the growing season in order to minimise sunburn risk for the grapes. Listening to him rattle through the minutiae of the vintage at 100 miles per hour is a real education into exactly how his wines turn out as good as they do.

Acknowledged by his peers as one of the most inspiring white winemakers in the Côte de Beaune (“meticulous and thoughtful viticulture, a source of inspiration for other vigneronns up and down the Côte” according to William Kelley), Lamy’s whites are, as Neal Martin puts it, “an exemplary showcase of Saint-Aubin’s terroirs, his white infused with compelling salinity and drive.”

What can be said about Cathiard besides the fact that their range is so heavily oversubscribed each year that they do not typically make it into this brochure? Aware of the worldwide clamour for this wines, Sébastien Cathiard now has in his range a pair of reds from the Hautes-Côtes de Nuits. More accessibly priced than his Vosne, Nuits and Chambolle wines, but fully showcasing the quality of his winemaking 'Les Dames Huguettes' and 'Aux Chaumes' are well worth checking out, scoring as well with Neal Martin as the Vosne-Romanée and Chambolle-Musigny village wines.

A new addition to our range in the 2019, this Chassagne estate is already becoming a customer favourite. While we are delighted to offer the wines of Domaines Bernard Moreau and Joseph Colin in Chassagne, there is never anywhere near enough produced each year to satisfy demand. ## Domaine François Buffet

Place de l'Eglise, Volnay

"If you seek "transparent" Burgundy, this is an address to come. These are light-coloured, airy, elegant wines beautifully poised."

Neal Martin

Based in a cracking spot in the heart of Volnay behind the church, Marc-Olivier Buffet has some low-roofed, charming cellars comprising not only the 2021s in their barrels, but a selection of bottled wines dating back to the Second World War, alas not available for sale! In his vineyards he is a keen exponent of re-piquage, replacing individual wines once they are dead or have stopped producing rather than ripping up large plots at one time, thus maximising the age of his vines. He has seven hectares spanning Volnay, Pommard and Savigny-Lès-Beaune.

Marc-Olivier took the smart move to destem all of his fruit in the 2021 vintage. This is a set of ethereal reds that capture all of the charm of Côte de Beaune Pinot Noir, especially so in the Monopole 'Clos de la Rougeotte', our pick of the range this year .

“Albert Bichot is one of those Beaune-based producers that can really surprise. Maybe like me, you spent years dismissing the wines while drinking your La Tâche and then lo and behold, you are served a bottle of Bichot blind and marvel at how well it shows.”

Neal Martin

Bichot's wines are characterised by their elegance and nuance – think of a ballerina rather than a rugby player! The wines feel so unforced and effortless; the very essence of what Burgundy should be about. These are perhaps not wines to convert New World drinkers, but they most certainly are wines to bring a smile to the face of many an existing Burgundy fan.

While HQ is in the centre of Beaune, Bichot's holdings are vinified locally—Domaine du Pavillon in Pommard, Domaine du Clos Frantin and the monopole Château Gris in Nuits-Saint-Georges and Domaine Long-Depaquit up in Chablis. This means each wine gets the same care and attention as it would at a stand-alone property, but also the back up of a well-resourced and widely experienced winemaking team.

"From limestone and marl soils and weighing in between 12 and 12.5% abv this year, Chamirey's Clos du Roi very much puts its front foot forward as far as fruit is concerned with lashings of bright red berries. There is a mineral edge too, with a hint of quinine. The tannins are nicely rounded, while the acidity is perfectly pitched, sitting in the background but giving backbone and structure to the palate. An impressive wine that will give plenty of short to mid-term pleasure."

"From Pelles and Pellans. Pale lemon colour. Nicely balanced with quite classy fruit, rather more breadth than the generic wines as one would hope. Lime juice at the back but I think the middle will fill out. And there is good persistence."

"Most plots are in the middle with one at each end, Les Houlières and La Corvée des Vignes. Philippe plans to separate out Petites Nosroyes from 2022. Pale colour with a stylish nose, quite typical of the appellation in its precision. This kicks on rather more at the back, compared to the Meursault and finishes very well. Very little loss here which helps the quality."

"The 2021 Puligny-Montrachet Les Perrières 1er Cru is the finest of three bottled wines that I tasted from Pernot-Bélicard. Taut and fresh with touches of sea spray on the nose, this articulates in terroir with style. The palate is well balanced with citrus peel, mandarin and grapefruit notes, cohesive with a fine bead of acidity and gentle grip on the finish. Enjoy this over the next decade."

"Pale colour with the faintest of green tints. 1.25 barrels only, but it had to be made. No flavour detail is on show on the nose yet, but there is a correct sense of weight here. White fruit with a light liquorice note, good acidity, enough volume, and persistence. This seems early in its élevage."

Domaine Joseph Voillot

Place de l'Eglise, Volnay

“Long-term readers know that I am a long-term fan of this Volnay producer... This is the bastion of what you might call “traditional” Burgundy that is all the rage nowadays. These are terroir-driven, site-specific wines that arguably entertain a bit of rusticity, can seem a little coarse in their youth, but age with unerring panache.”
Neal Martin

An eight hectare Domaine situated right in the heart of the charming village of Volnay, Domaine Joseph Voillot is now in the hands of the sixth generation with Joseph's grandson Etienne Chaix having now taken over from his larger-than-life uncle Jean-Pierre Charlot.

The style here is one to delight the purists. The wines are not bodybuilders, nor flashy, especially in their youth, but they do translate their terroir with exceptional purity and it is always a thrill to pull an old bottle out from the cellar given how well they age.

Everything was destemmed in 2021 and no new oak was used. While frost losses were in the region of 60-90%, what wine was made was delightful, especially at the Premier Cru level where individual site-expression was clearly in evidence.

"The 2021 Bourgogne Pinot Noir Vieilles Vignes is the largest cuvée this year - 20 barrels. It has a strong menthol nose with a touch of iodine and spearmint. The palate is medium-bodied with rustic tannins, a little ferrous with a splash of balsamic towards the finish. Drink over the next couple of years."

"The 2021 Volnay Vieilles Vignes is quite deep in colour. It offers dark berries, raspberry coulis and orange blossom on the nose, just a slight underlying reduction. The palate is medium-bodied with smooth tannins. It's tart in style, with black cherries, soy and white pepper, though it just misses a little ripeness on the finish."

"The 2021 Pommard Vieilles Vignes is a step up from the Volnay with more freshness and delineation - black cherries and raspberry coulis. The palate is medium-bodied with pliant tannins, cohesive with a fine bead of acidity, gentle grip towards the raspberry and blackcurrant finish, cracked black pepper on the aftertaste. Fine."

"The 2021 Volnay Les Fremiets 1er Cru is perfumed on the nose with rose petals and iris flowers infusing cranberry and strawberry fruit. Maybe it just lacks a bit of complexity. The palate is medium-bodied with grainy tannins, a slightly chalky texture and gentle grip with a structured and more Pommard-inspired finish. Give this a couple of years in bottle."

"The 2021 Volnay Les Champans 1er Cru has much more brightness and delineation than the Fremiets this year, with red cherries, wild strawberries and just a touch of iodine and sous-bois. This is nicely focused. The palate is medium-bodied with sappy red fruit, fine structure, pliant tannins and a harmonious finish. Not the most complex Champans encountered from this address, yet it has class."

"The 2021 Volnay Les Caillerets 1er Cru was reduced to a single barrel for the first time ever. It does not quite have the complexity or terroir expression of the Champans on the nose, a little stoic and distant. The palate is medium-bodied with ripe tannins, a mixture of red and black fruit and fine acidity, plus a healthy sprinkling of white pepper and sage towards the persistent finish. Not quite the élan of the Champans, yet it pulls together nicely."

"The 2021 Pommard les Epenots 1er Cru has a touch more fruit intensity than the Clos Micault, raspberry and cranberry mixed with bay leaf and clove. The palate is medium-bodied with slightly chewy tannins on the entry and fine depth, though it is missing a bit of complexity towards the sour cherry finish."

Domaine Confuron-Cotétidot

Rue de la Fontaine, Vosne-Romanée

Always ones to plough their own furrow, this family estate founded in the 17th Century has been under the leadership of Yves Confuron for the last two decades. They always use whole-bunches, with late picking where necessary in order to make that work. Massive in their youth, these wines tend to age brilliant, achieving balance with time.

That commitment to doing things their own way extends to the selection and propagation of their own vines, maintaining a high average vine-age in their vineyards. In 2021, their exceptionally late pruning paid huge dividends, avoiding the frost problems that plagued most other Burgundy producers. With holdings in Echezeaux and the single biggest holding of Suchots, this is a new Vosne estate to our range, and one well worth getting acquainted with.

88-90 Burghound

"(from Les Fremiers, Guérippes, Mal Carrées and Les Condemennes). A more floral-suffused nose displays additional notes of very pretty essence of red currant and spiced plum. The delicate yet punchy flavors exude a subtle bead of minerality that adds a sense of lift to the dusty, moderately austere and bitter pit fruit-inflected finale that leans out somewhat as it sits on the palate. This may well flesh out with a few years of bottle aging."

"(from Murailles du Clos, also known as Porte Feuilles, and Les Jacquines). A notably spicier mix features notes of both red and blue pinot fruit along with a floral top note. The sleek, delicious and energetic medium weight flavors possess better concentration and a lovely texture while displaying solid length on the moderately austere and markedly firm finale. This robust though not rustic effort will clearly need at least some patience."

The rich, velvety and sappy medium weight flavors coat the palate with sappy dry extract that also serves to buffer the firm tannic spine supporting the firmly austere, markedly compact and impressively long finish. This is always one of the domaine's best wines and so it is again in 2021."
